

Scott & Leann

To Someone Special,

We are honored to have the chance to introduce ourselves to you and thank you for taking the time to read our letter. We hope you will see in these pages that we are a loving, fun, and unique couple.

We can't imagine what you are going through. Your choice to trust another with your child humbles us. Adoption has touched our lives through family and friends. We tried for many years to build our family and are so excited to pursue adoption.

Your decision will give us one of the greatest gifts imaginable—the gift of family.

Please know that your child will be raised in a safe, warm home filled with love and happiness and surrounded by family, friends, and lots of fun.

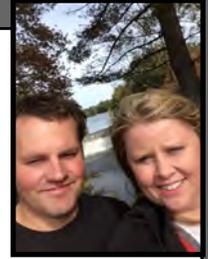

Our little family will be encircled by a bigger family, waiting with open arms.

We will forever know there are no sufficient words, and there will never be anything we could give, that would be as meaningful as the life you created and chose to share with us.

Our Story

We consider our story one that was meant to be or a "fairy tale." We both grew up in a small community and lived in the same building. My parents babysat Scott when he was a baby (there are some interesting pictures). He went to public school and I to Catholic School, we met up again in Junior High. The road wasn't all roses and sunshine, but the road led us to where we are today. We couldn't be more grateful for the path we chose! We all believe life will work out as we planned; you get married and have children. For us, this plan did not work out. Life isn't perfect, you cannot always plan, and you never know what might happen. We had some big losses and many things that have tested us. But, nothing has broken us, in fact, we have only grown stronger, learned more about each other, and learned to "roll with the punches."

We are truly blessed to have been chosen to be godparents for our godchild Evelyn and we absolutely love spending every minute with her, our nieces and nephews and closest friend's children. We always take the time to appreciate the little (and big things) in life and it may be something hard to imagine, but we consider our life to be near perfect with one HUGE missing piece to the puzzle... a child. We cannot wait to be parents!

Our home is located in the country in the same community we both grew up in. We are fortunate enough to be located within miles of both sides of our family and friends. We know our child will be lucky to grow up closely encircled by tons of people who love them!
