Hi There!

Thanks for taking the time to look at our profile. We hope the following pages will give you a clear picture of what our lives are like and will communicate how much love we have to offer to the child that God allows to be part of our family.
Our story began the summer of 2007 when we started dating after several years of being close friends. You could call us high school sweethearts (although we didn’t technically start dating until college). Matt was going into his senior year of college and Sarah was about to become a college freshman. We were young and in love.

First came love... Then came marriage... Then came two doggies in a baby carriage...
We’ve been married for 10 years now, and our lives have changed quite a bit since the time we were dating in college. Though we didn’t have much back then, we were crazy about each other, and we always found a way to splurge on an $8 pizza from the pizzeria near our tiny apartment. Though much has changed, one thing has remained the same: our love and commitment to one another.

During the time we’ve been together, we have lived in three different states, accumulated four different degrees, traveled to numerous countries, added two furry children to our family, and in June of 2017, we finally bought our first home. We love our jobs, but we love our time together and as a family even more!
Our lives have certainly gotten more interesting with the addition of our two boys.

Hercules is our lazy yet bossy Chihuahua. He is now almost three years old and quite well-behaved. He likes to keep his sneaky little brother, Bailey, in line when Bailey attempts to chew the furniture.

Bailey is our sweet, sassy, and spoiled Teddy-bear. He is always ready and willing to give snuggles or kisses to everyone he meets. He can be a stinker, but we’re still crazy about him.
Our family and our Christian faith are the most important parts of our lives. Sarah is the middle of five children and Matt is the oldest of three. We adore our nine nephews and three nieces. Though we live in a different state than our families, we keep in touch often by phone, FaceTime, and regular visits during the summer and over the holidays. Can you guess which family belongs to each of us?
All About Matt: Matt works hard, but he also likes to play hard. In his spare time you will catch him playing board games, reading, checking out museums, or indulging his new hobby of cooking.

Matt loves sports and hiking. Our nephews are crazy about Uncle Matt and can never get enough time with him.
All About Sarah: Aside from her human family, there’s nothing that Sarah loves more than her puppies (Hercules and Bailey).

In her free time, Sarah loves singing, hosting her friends for brunch, attending musical theater performances, staying active, reading and engaging in a competitive game of mini golf. Sarah also loves cooking, decorating, crocheting, and she will never say “no” to a scoop of ice cream.
Our life together

We love being outside together and having new adventures! We enjoy activities like biking, snowshoeing, snorkeling and hiking.

We enjoy good entertainment like concerts and Broadway shows. We absolutely love eating good food! And though we lead professional lives at work, we never take ourselves too seriously.

Adventures aside, on Friday nights there’s still nothing we love more than snuggling up for movie nights in our sweats with a pizza and a big bowl of ice cream. :)

Our Parental Promise

We promise that any child who comes into our lives will always know where they came from. We will highly regard the woman who gives this child birth. We will speak favorably and respectfully of this woman to our child, knowing that without her, we would not have the opportunity to raise this precious life. This child will be constantly encouraged, forever supported, and overwhelmingly loved.

We promise to love sacrificially and to put the child’s needs above our own. We promise to maintain a healthy and loving relationship in order to model Christ-like love. We promise to protect them, provide for them, and not let a day go by without telling them that we are proud of them and that we care for them. We promise to challenge this child to reach their fullest potential (whatever that may be). We promise to provide opportunities for personal growth and enrichment and to cherish every moment together, big or small. Finally, through thick and thin, we will consistently strive to communicate through our actions and our words that they are unconditionally loved.
Thank you for taking the time to look at our profile and for considering us as potential adoptive parents for your little one.
